

Through field trip venues and outreach programs, our K-12 education programs reach 6,000 students throughout Palm Beach, Martin, and Broward counties annually.

Little Red Schoolhouse

Offers fourth-grade students a true early American educational experience in the oldest one-room schoolhouse in southeast Florida.

Pan's Garden

Provides K-12 students with experiential learning in ethnobotany, biomonitoring, and transpiration at a botanical garden consisting of over 300 native Florida plant species.

Heritage Education

Teaches fourth-grade students about the history and culture of a community through the medium of local architecture.

Student Publications

Empowers students to improve their reading and writing skills through authorship of a book on a geographically significant topic.

Scholarships and internships support students of higher education and provide professional opportunities that compliment areas of study such as architecture, historic preservation, and library science.

John D. Mashek Scholarship

Provides a scholarship opportunity for high school seniors in Palm Beach County who wish to pursue a collegiate course of study in architectural design, interior design, or landscape design.

Jerry A. Tishman Scholarship

Offers two scholarship opportunities available to graduate students who study architecture in the state of Florida and have an interest in historic preservation.

Anthony K. Baker Internship

Provides challenging, professional opportunities for undergraduate and graduate students of architectural design and historic preservation over the course of six weeks.

Preservation Foundation Archival Internship

Provides archival experience for undergraduate and graduate students of public history, library and information science, and historic preservation over the course of six weeks.
